

Demand response utilised today is about one fifth of the volume needed by 2030

